Hospital Building Plans Outlined at Rotary Luncheon

San Antonio Community hospital is planning to construct a nurses home and another wing to the hospital to handle emergency cases, Dr. A. A. Aita, superintendent, told the Upland Rotary club members at their luncehon meeting in the Upland Woman's club house Wednesday.

He disclosed that the hospital's board of directors has authorized purchase of a 10-acre tract adjoining the hospital, where the nurses' home will be built.

TO TRAIN NURSES

Inauguration of a nurses' training school is also planned. Nurses now are trained at other hospitals but under the proposed program would be given the specialized instruction to adapt them more specifically to the hospital here.

A new X-ray plant is needed and is on order, Dr. Aita stated.

Thirty-eight employes, including 12 doctors, are now serving in the armed forces of the United States, and will be taken back when the war ends.

Speaking on "New Horizons," he said "we hope this hospital is one that will never cease in its growth nor reach its completion."

The Chas. V. Barr wing was dedicated yesterday afternoon.

The San Antonio Community hospital has the largest available blood bank of plasma of living persons in existence, Dr. Aita stated. The hospital has organized a typing center for the preparation of blood serum and is a plasma depot. Blood types of thousands of the community's residents have been typed.

PENICILLIN USED

The hospital has kept abreast with the major discoveries in the field of medical treatment and prepares its own penicillin. At least seven lives have been saved by its use.

Speaking of the hospital's history, he said the late Dr. H. W Craig was one of its founders and that it was first named Paul Memorial hospital because of large gifts received from the Paul family. At the request of the Paul donors, however, the name was changed to San Antonio Community hospital.

At that time the hospital had beds for 21 patients and had a budget of $75,000 annually. In 1944, its budget was a quarter of a million dollars and there are 90 persons on the hospital staff.

LABORATORY GROWTH

Dr. Aita came to the hospital as head of the laboratory department and was advanced first to acting superintendent and is now superintendent. He retains his interest in medical laboratory analyses. In 1931, the laboratory was one room 10 by 10 feet in size and now it has an area of more than 700 square feet.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. A. L. Weber, program chairman for the day.

Visiting Rotarians, all from Ontario, were William Batchelor, president of the Ontario Rotary club, Dr. Harry Fredrickson, J. E. Sandford, Don Thompson, Earl Blakeslee, Leo A. Wadsworth and J. Dewey Harnish.

I.O.O.F.-Rebekahs Plan Party for Children Tuesday

Children and grandchildren of members of the Upland Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges will gather about the Christmas tree in the lodge hall next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, where gifts will be distributed. Then they will remain for a party and program.

Arrangements are being made to distribute gifts to 100 children up to 14 years of age.

In charge of the party are Mr. and Mrs. Watts Cate, John Swoap, Everett Robinson, Mrs. Homer Washburn and Mrs. George Serina.

Two new members were initiated at the I. O. O. F. meeting on Tuesday evening. They were John L. Bice, 951 North Fifth avenue, and George M. Hale, 375½ East Foothill boulevard.

Store, Apartment Will Be Repaired

Hospital Addition Dedicated As Cornerstone Unveiled

Memories of a throng of interested persons were taken back to the early beginning of the San Antonio Community hospital as Earl W. Paul appeared as the principal speaker in the brief and impressive ceremony at the institution yesterday.

Unveiling of the cornerstone of the $80,000 addition marked the assemblage. Charles V. Barr, who for many years has devoted much time in guiding the development of the institution, unveiled the cornerstone which bears the statement: "Charles V. Barr Pavilion, 1944."

Charles V. Latimer, vice president of the hospital board of trustees, presided. After briefly opening the program, he presented Mr. Paul who told of the hospital history. Much of his discourse centered around his mother, the late Mrs. Frances Paul, who was largely instrumental in establishing the institution.

Dr. A. L. Weber referred to the vital service given the institution by Mr. Barr. He spoke just prior to the actual unveiling of the cornerstone. Invocation was delivered by the Rev. Clarence E. Reynolds of the Upland Presbyterian church.

Many persons assembled just east of the new addition. Workers on the structure paused during the ceremonies. Following is Mr. Paul's historical summary:

By EARL W. PAUL

"The trustees of the San Antonio Community hospital feel that this is a very proper occasion to present to the people of the communities tributary to this institution a general statement of the growth of hospitalization in this area and the support they have given to it.

"The first hospital organization in this community was known as the San Antonio Hospital association, located at West Tenth street and San Antonio avenue. It was incorporated in 1907 as an ordinary profit-sharing stock company. I find listed as the first incorporators the following persons who, I know, were well known to many of you: Dr. E. W. Reid of Alta

Subscriptions to The Upland News Expiring Dec. 31

The Upland News is privileged to deliver the paper to almost every family in Upland.

And most of these families pay for their subscription in December on a calendar year basis.

Subscription expiration notices will be mailed soon to all persons who have not paid as yet for their 1945 editions of the paper. Many persons, however, have already renewed their subscription. By paying now, the subscriber is not only "looking to the future," but is also fully cooperating in saving postal cards and the time and effort involved in the issuance of expiration notices.

Siegrist To Open "Trading Post"

J. H. Siegrist has leased the business building at 271 North Second avenue and will open "Siegrist's Trading Post," there about January 1, he announced today. This is the former location of the Upland chapter of the Red Cross.

Used home furnishings will be featured and Mr. Siegrist will also buy furniture and refinish it and thus give a service that is not obtained elsewhere in this district.

Refinishing of antique furniture has been his hobby for years and this type of work will be one feature of his new business.

"We will try to fill the need of supplying this area with an up-to-the-date 'trading post' where we can supply residents with those items in used home furnishings not usually found elsewhere," explained Mr. Siegrist, adding, "we will trade almost anything."

Later, he said, the Trading Post will inaugurate a chair and card table rental for parties.

Formerly employed at the General Electric Co. in Ontario, Mr. Siegrist said that "due to our connections with this company we have arranged to have Hotpoint irons and appliances serviced, but we do not plan to service other appliances."

Negotiations for lease of the business building have been underway for weeks. Mr. Siegrist resigned his position with the G. E. sometime ago in anticipation of opening the store here.

City's Payroll To Be Discussed at Meeting Tonight

Meeting as a committee, members of the Upland city council will convene informally tonight to discuss the municipal employes' salary and the request for an increase of $25 a month. Members of the fire and police departments have requested the increase to cover higher living costs and to offset the deductions from their present pay checks.

The meeting will provide an opportunity for the officials to discuss all phases of the local payroll and to make comparisons with other cities.

Thirty-two men and women are now employed by the city and the monthly payroll is $6,900, according to City Manager Richard G. Manley.

Mr. and Mrs. McElhaney of 372 So. Campus Ave., have moved to Hemet.

Christmas was observed last evening by members of the San Antonio Heights Community league and the San Antonio Heights Volunteer fire department and their families at a joint gathering in the dining hall of the Ussher-Davis foundation. During a short business session which followed the dinner hour, officers for the coming year were chosen for the league. Dr. Charles E. Taylor was re-elected president; Arthur J. Reeder was re-elected vice-president; Mrs. Gooding Lydick, treasurer; and Mrs. Audrey Ball, secretary.

Mrs. Harold J. Stickney served as program chairman. After a number of games ,an army motion picture, "Landing and Living on the Desert," was presented through the courtesy of the forestry service.

There was community singing of Christmas carols by both the children and the adults and Santa Claus arrived with a full sack. He distributed stockings filled with nuts and candy to the children, and there were gifts for all at the party.

A beautifully-decorated Christmas tree, furnished by the forestry service, added to the holiday atmosphere.

Airport for City Possible If CAA Approves Site

The Civil Aeronautics Administration is interested in placing small airports in many places in the nation and any community with a population of at least 5,000 can be eligible for consideration, according to Theodore Phillips, West Twenty-fifth street resident, and one of the city's most air-minded leaders.

Unofficially, he expressed the belief that "Upland could get an airport", and then outlined the following procedure to be followed in getting the attention of the CAA.

The city as a municipality or some other agency should select a site believed to be most suitable. The airport planning division of the CAA would then send a representative here to "decide if such an improvement is needed and if conditions are right for the use of airplanes."

If the recommendations were favorable, then the CAA would allot an appropriation for development of the airport in the post-war period.

"I was talking with one of the officials recently and I am quite confident Upland in general would be given favorable consideration if a suitable site could be found," explained Mr. Phillips.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration recently announced allocation of funds to various county areas.

Draft Board Expecting to Get Official Document on "Work or Fight" Order

Mindful of the public announcement from national selective service officials of the "work or fight" directive, members of the Upland Selective Service board have received no official document relative to the new policy.

Francis Rogers chairman, said that "all we know is what we have read in the papers." An official order, however, is expected since Washington, D. C. and Sacramento draft board leaders have issued public statements relative to the manpower situation and the importance of keeping military and industrial ranks filled.

"We have had no response from men of draft age as the result of the public announcement," explained Edgar C. Pierce, clerk of the board.

The public announcement about the work or fight situation emphasized that men over 26 years of age might be called for duty as a step in filling the gaps left in the fighting and industrial fronts.

Mr. Pierce observed that large industrial organizations in the metropolitan district had experienced a sudden falling off of men seeking to go into non-essential activities.

Tom DuVall Back From 2½ Years of Service in South Pacific Area

On this spring-like, sunshiny, beautiful day, the temperature at noon today seemed cold to Tom DuVall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde DuVall, 732 North Euclid avenue.

It seemed cold to him because for 2½ years he has been accustomed to much warmer weather. Down in the South Pacific, it takes but very little clothing to keep warm.

"I am getting a little accustomed to the weather here now," he said as he wore two heavy sweaters as he visited this noon. He arrived home yesterday morning and his sudden appearance, incidentally, was a surprise to his parents.

"I tried to call them from L. A., but I guess 'mom' was out," explained the dark-haired young man, who left Upland as a Chaffey college graduate and returned a veteran of world war No. 2.

For many years prior to the war his first avocation was radio. And so in due time he enlisted and he has been in very close touch with the radio and other specialized war-time developments in the field of communication.

"I understand there may be a high frequency broadcasting station put here on Cucamonga peak," beamed the oldest of the three DuVall sons in the service.

Asked about radio developments, the young Uplander said "there has been tremendous advancement made in high frequency transmission and, of course, that will be made available in the postwar period."

As to actual combat battles, Mr DuVall, a radio technician second class, said he didn't happen to get into much of the actual fighting.

He reported the morale of the men was high, "but they will take letters from home above everything else." Movies on ship and at bases are big morale-builders.

Most of his time has been spent on ships that have touched at many islands in the south Pacific.

As to how soon the war might be over, the young Uplander was not too optimistic, but added: "of course we have made big strides and we will make many more, but after all we have not even won back all the territory the Japs conquered. It will be a long fight yet."

He is here on a 30-day furlough

242 Businesses In Upland Now

Business license fees will be due from 242 Upland firms and professional men January 1, I. J. Linkey, city license officer, announced today.

Every person in business in Upland pays license fees, ranging from $12 to $60 annually. On January 10 the payments become delinquent and a 10 per cent penalty is charged.

For many years, Mr. Linkey reports, Upland had a steady business growth. Then, with the beginning of United States' participation in the war, a recession set in. But apparently the depression in business growth has already reached bottom as the trend is now upward.

During 1944, he reports, 252 licenses were issued, meaning that 10 license holders have quit business this year.

The highest number of licenses ever issued in one year was in 1941, when 458 firms and individuals paid the annual fee. In 1942 the number had decreased to 385, and had dropped to 255 in 1943.

Plumbers, bricklayers and other artisans working on public housing projects must be licensed by the city and pay fees. But application has not yet been made by the contractors on the new 200 houses on North Campus avenue.

Chaffey High Passes Half Way Mark in All Year Bond Drive

Close of the sixth war loan drive will have no meaning at Chaffey high school.

The students are pointing to a year's goal of $19,800 and have already passed the half-way mark with sales totaling $12,168.46.

The 50 per cent mark was reached Tuesday when $3072.75 was invested. Only 12 of the 61 classes did not reach 90 per cent participation.

Since the campaign began, nine classes have reached 100 per cent each time and 16 classes have attained 90 per cent. During the week of December 4, 95 per cent of the Chaffey high school students bought stamps in their first period classes.

Totals to date by classes are seniors, $2475; juniors, $2045; sophomores, $2203, and freshmen, $2371.

"Upland Wishes You A Merry Christmas"

"Upland Wishes You a Merry Christmas", placards facing east and west on Foothill boulevard at Euclid avenue will announce.

The signs and a 16-foot Christmas tree, lighted by floodlights at night will be placed by Ira Francisco of the street department and Chief of Police Eugene L. Mueller. They were authorized by the city council and sponsored by the chamber of commerce Christmas decorations committee under the chairmanship of Ernest C. Olson.

Dr. James V. Latimer, chamber secretary, reported today the decorations committee will place 12 more silver painted trees on Upland streets. Trees and candle coverings for street lights already decorate Second avenue and Ninth street.

Chaffey Cafeteria "Business" Shows 15 Per Cent Gain

Since the double lunch period in Chaffey high school has been operating service in the cafeteria has increased 15 per cent, it was reported today.

There has also been a one-third increase in the special plate lunch which has been reduced from 25 to 20 cents.

The lunch period was divided into two sections recently because the cafeteria was overly crowded when all students went to lunch at the same time.

Augment Police Patrol In City

Augmented police protection will be provided merchants and shoppers in downtown Upland starting tonight and continuing until Christmas, Chief of Police Eugene L. Mueller announced today.

He said downtown Upland streets are more congested now than at any time in the past.

There is greater traffic on the streets and larger crowds in the stores and on the sidewalks.

To afford added protection, police officers have been assigned to patrol the area on foot, supplementing the regular patrol and the squad car movements.

The additional patrols will be made in the late afternoons and early evenings.

JORDAN IMPROVING

E. T. Jordan, long-time Upland resident, underwent a major operation Wednesday at the Pomona Valley hospital and his condition today was reported to be satisfactory. Mr. Jordan, who is 85 years of age, has been in failing health but attendants are hopeful of an early recovery.

175 Gift Boxes Sent to Veterans

Upland's Red Cross chapter and Legion post yesterday sent 475 Christmas boxes to San Bernardino to be distributed to hospitalized war veterans.

The American Legion throughout the nation has been collecting gift packages to present to the wounded veterans on Christmas. Here in Upland, the Red Cross had undertaken similar solicitation last year, and the Legion and Red Cross cooperated this year.

I. J. Linkey, Upland post commander, paid tribute to the Red Cross committee, headed by Mrs. John B. Craig for the unexpected success attained here. It had been anticipated that 250 to 300 boxes might be obtained but the final figure was somewhat astounding.

The boxes were collected at Red Cross headquarters and the selective service office and the Legion transported them to the San Bernardino American Legion headquarters for distribution to the veterans in hospitals.

$4,400,000 Year Ended by Orange Products Firm

Exchange Orange Products Co. plant at Ontario showed net returns in excess of $4,400,000 this year, it was announced toady.

The returns this year were somewhat less than 1943 because of smaller volume of fruit available for processing.

C. C. Teague has been reelected president and C. E. Myers first vice president. LeRoy E. Lyon was elected second vice president to succeed C. H. Clock. Glen Shepherd of Etiwanda is a director.

Herbert S. Bailey was reelected secretary-treasurer and reappointed manager. Assistant secretaries are A. J. DeSmith, James O. Cook, R. C. Hayslip and N. E. Olinger.

In his annual report, Manager Bailey stated that concentrated and natural strength canned orange juice sold for military and lend-lease purposes in the past season equalled 4,110,000 gallons of fresh juice. In 1943, an even greater amount was delivered to these war agencies.

Critical labor shortages were lightened by the aid of army men from nearby bases. Working only a few hours per day or week, they were an important factor in preventing serious delays in production or shipping.

Urgent military demands for orange products were constantly ahead of deliveries. The Sunkist affiliate was in continuous operation 24 hours daily on a seven day week throughout the past year.

Demand for pectin far exceeded the plant's capacity. The pectin division has been in continuous operation three years. To keep production up to capacity requires 125 tons of oranges per day and the past year's production exceeded 1,000,000 pounds.

Since 1938, the exchange plant has sold 35,000 tons of dried orange pulp as cattle feed and now has orders for the next six months output.

Postal Sales Steady From Day to Day; Office Open Saturday

While 1944 receipts at the Upland post office are far ahead of the 1943 income, it is unlikely any daily sales record will be set this year due to the high mark of $526 for one day's stamp sales a year ago.

On Tuesday of this week, stamp sales here totaled $459.53 to set the 1944 record. On December 14, 1943 the sales were $526.

Due to the early start in mailing of Yule packages, Postmaster Orton P. Brady expressed the belief today that the 1943 mark would remain as the record through this Christmas.

Incidentally, the Upland post office will be open all day tomorrow as an accommodation to the general public.

Chamber Directors Will Meet Tuesday

Upland chamber of commerce directors will meet next Tuesday morning at 7:30 o'clock in the Apple Pie cafe, Dr. James V. Latimer, secretary, announced today.

Christmas Seal Sale Lagging, Chairman Reports

Concern is felt for the success of the Christmas seal campaign sponsored by the San Bernardino County Tuberculosis association, it was reported today.

The campaign is nearing its deadline and only 50 per cent of the goal has been obtained.

In Upland, Christmas seals have been mailed to nearly every resident by Mayor Eugene Nisbet, community chairman. But 100 sheets of Christmas seals were placed on sale at the chamber of commerce office and only five have been sold. They may also be obtained at Huxtable's pharmacy.

"Unless our entire quota is raised our tuberculosis control program will have to be curtailed for 1945," J. Clifford Lee, association president, reports. The 1945 goal is $35,000.

Lonnie Blevin, six-year-old son of Mrs. Stanley Bonillas, 794 East Ninth street, submitted to a tonsillectomy yesterday at San Antonio Community hospital.

Of Course Upland Did It— Sixth Bond Quota Oversubscribed

It is very noteworthy and can bear much emphasis—Uplanders accepted their quota in the sixth war loan campaign and reached it right in stride and are now on the march to exceed the specified figure by many thousands of dollars.

That is no more than should be done in this community but nevertheless we can boast about this achievement. We want our Upland men and women in the service to realize that people in their home town are backing them.

Public Officials and What They Say

From time to time we believe it advisable to publish a paragraph which appeared in an Upland News editorial some time ago:

"Public officials are public servants—not their own. Their every word and their every act must be subject to public scrutiny. This condition must always exist in the nation's capital, in the county seat, in the Chaffey district and in Upland."

Prayer of the "Knocker"

Lord, please don't let this town grow. I've been here for thirty years and during that time I have fought every public improvement. I've knocked everything and everybody. I have done all I could to keep this town from growing and never have spoken a good word for it.

I've knocked hard and often. I've put ashes on the children's slide and I've made the policeman make the boys stop playing ball on my vacant lot. Whenever I saw anyone prospering or enjoying himself, I have started a reform to kill the business or spoil the fun. I do not want the young folks to stay in this town, and I will do all I can by every rule and ordinance to drive them away.

It pains me, Lord, to see that in spite of my knocking this town is beginning to grow. Some day I fear I will be called upon to put down sidewalks in front of my property, and who knows but what I might have to help keep up the streets that run by my premises? This, Lord, would be more than I could bear. It would cost me money, though all I have made has been made right here in this town.

Well Trained School Orchestra, Choral Group, Thrill 300 at P.-T. A. Program

Lights were dimmed in the Upland Elementary school auditorium Wednesday evening and 66 junior high school and Elementary school boys and girls, led by candle bearers, marched slowly in swaying lines down the aisles. As each entered the auditorium, he or she began to sing "Oh, Come All Ye Faithful," and the music reached crescendo as the first students walked up to the stage.

Charles Reeder and Marian McLellan had preceeded them down the aisles to take their places as narrators and in tone poems told the story of Christ's nativity and the circumstances surrounding that event.

The singers, dressed in white surplices and wearing large black bow ties, lit 12 candles before a large cathedral window on the stage and stationed themselves on both sides.

Under the direction of Miss Peggy Grahame and with Mrs. Earl H. Johnson as piano accompanist, they sang Christmas songs and carols. Voices blending perfectly, the children sang with professional assurance that won thunderous applause of the 300 persons in the audience. Their measured, rapid-fire rendition of "The First Noel" was startlingly effective.

The junior high school orchestra under Mrs. Johnson's baton played five selections, including a medley of Christmas carols, with less raggedness and fewer sour notes than most senior high school groups. They played Mendelssohn's "Festival March" almost flawlessly, with confidence and vigor.

Both the orchestra and choral singers were splendidly trained.

The music was announced by Mrs. O. E. Atwood and constituted the program of the Parent-Teacher association meeting in the auditorium.

Mrs. Poli H. Sanches, P.-T. A. president, opened the meeting. It was revealed the members had donated $400 to the child welfare fund from receipts of the recent carnival, that the Upland Rotary club had donated $50 to the Upland Cub Scout pack and that the P.-T. A. has joined the San Antonio Community Hospital auxiliary.

William O. Totman of Ontario presented to the P.-T. A. a charter for the Upland Cub Scout pack for 1945. Fire Chief Howard Paulin announced the army has requested that when airplanes crash, the police department be notified immediately. The police can summon crash equipment to save lives, while the fire department can get its trucks out to prevent property damage.

Good Victory Garden Practices Outlined

Persons planning 1945 victory gardens are advised by J. P. Hertel, assistant farm advisor, to use one to two pounds of barnyard fertilizer per square foot of garden and to adopt timely and continuous pest control practices.

Many of those who dropped gardening this year did so because of lack of experience and poor production in 1943, he said. Most of the poor results were due to lack of sufficient fertilizer and inadequate pest control.

Those with good gardens in 1943 had better crops in 1944 and would not be without a garden in 1945, he stated.

A survey made by the United States department of agriculture shows 18,500,000 victory gardens grown in 1944. Virtually all those gardeners expect to continue in 1945.

BEULAH COLLEGE NEWS—

Alumni Group To Meet Tonight

Annual "homecoming" of the Beulah College Alumni association will be held in the administration building at the college tonight.

Since the local institution is observing its 25th year, the program is more or less centering about the them of the "First Quarter Century."

Harold C. Musser is president of the association, which includes 320 persons. More than 100 alumni are expected tonight. A contributed dish dinner will precede the program. William Herr, a distinguished tenor soloist, who has established his name as a radio singer in the middlewest, will appear on the program in several selections. Miss Sue Landis will also appear on the program as a soloist.

FACULTY FETED

Members of the faculty and their husbands and wives were guests of President and Mrs. Jesse F. Lady at a "Christmas Fellowship" dinner, at the Lady home, 650 West Arrow highway. Twenty persons were in attendance last night.

SUNDAY PROGRAM

Considerable interest is being shown in the appearance Sunday night in the Brethren in Christ church of the combined Men's and Women's glee clubs in a Christmas program. Miss Dorothy Witter will direct the singers. Most of the numbers will be A Cappella.

Special selections will be presented by the Women's Glee club, a mixed trio and a ladies' chorus. The numbers will include the Halleluah Chorus, old time and popular Christmas carols.

"Open House" Well Attended

Between 90 and 100 persons were taken on tours of Beulah college and academy at "open house" Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Students assigned as guides met visitors in the administration building lobby and conducted them through the classrooms, girls' dormitories, boys' dormitories, playgrounds, music rooms and store.

The classrooms are equipped with arm desk chairs and while they were adequate in size several years ago, Miss Ruby Buckwalter, one of the guides, explained that they are crowded now with 101 regular students and 13 special students enrolled.

Beulah college has an extensive "Podrasnik" library in the basement stocked with thousands of volumes all indexed and in addition has a smaller reading and study room. The chemistry, physics, zoology and botany laboratories are in the basement, and equipment includes a cabinet of fine microscopes. Typewriting is also taught and there is an adequate suppply of late model machines.

The chapel in the administration building is almost as large as a church, but because of the large attendance extra chairs have had to be placed in the aisles.

Religious sentiment flavors the bedrooms in the dormitories, with placard slogans and pictures. The girls are assigned two to a room but in the boys' dormitories the rooms are larger and three or four are together in some rooms. Pullman-type two decker beds are used exclusively.

The girls use drapes, lace, chiffon and other colorful material to make their rooms chic and eye-appealing.

On the school grounds there is an outdoor pavilion with fireplace where students have meals in warm weather. There are basketball, tennis, horseshoe and croquet courts and a large field suitable for football or baseball.

Caution Urged to Prevent Fires in Christmas Trees

Upland will have one or two Christmas tree fires this year if past experience is a criterion.

Christmas tree fires can usually be traced to electric wiring in the tree lights.

This year, Fire Chief Howard C. Paulin reports, the danger is enhanced because substitutes may be used for decorative tree bulbs, which have become almost unobtainable.

Bulbs of larger watt capacity than the usual Christmas variety could blow out fuses or short circuit the wiring to ignite a tree, while paper coverings on flashlight bulbs might catch fire.

An ever present Christmas-time danger, especially in the churches, is the use of lighted candles on trees. Chief Paulin warns against this practice.

He requests that Uplanders check their electric wiring systems and follow caution in tree decoration.

THE RANGER'S CORNER

E. H. KINCAID
District Ranger

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION: What kind of trees do we have in our mountains?

THE RANGER SAYS: There are so many I can not describe them all in one article, so I will tell you something about one of our most common ones each week.

This week we will take the Sugar Pine (Pinus lambertiana). This is the largest of our Southern California trees. It grows at elevations of 4000 feet to 8000 feet and is one of the most common trees around San Sevaine lookout and along the ridge below Cucamonga peak. The tree has very long branches which stand straight out and give the tree a very irregular shape. The cones are large, sometimes 20 inches long and hang from the ends of the branches. The bark is grayish in color and is very rough. The needles grow in bundles of five and are about 2 to 4 inches long. The general appearance of the tree is characterized by the graygreen color and the fineness of the foliage compared with the other trees. Sugar Pine commonly grows in a stand mixed with spruce, cedar, and the other kinds of pines.

Finds $20 on Street; Turns It Over to Police Department

Richard A. Loch, 925 Washington boulevard, found a $20 bill on a street in downtown Upland Wednesday afternoon. He turned it in to the Upland police department.

He is an Upland Cub Scout in den No. 4. Chief of Police and Upland Cubmaster Eugene L. Mueller wrote him that "your act in finding $20 on the street and taking it to the police department is very commendable indeed.

"You exemplified the highest virtues of manhood: Honesty and loyalty.

"You will, I am sure, be a very fine man and an American citizen of whom everyone will be proud, especially your mother and daddy."

High School Girls Distribute Toys

Over 200 toys, books and games have been repaired at Chaffey high school and have been turned over to the county welfare commission and the Salvation Army for distribution in needy homes in this area.

For two weeks, the Girls' League welfare committee collected the toys and repaired them in the upstairs hall of the girls' gymnasium.

Welfare committee members are Thelma Jackson, chairman, Elizabeth Findlay, Barbara Tillman, Mary Reynolds, Dorothy Wire, Jean Lichti, Mary Alice Mitchell and Esther Lane.

World Friendship club members sponsored a drive for blankets and old clothing for Yugoslavian relief. Boxes were placed in a school hall for contributions and Zorene Madie and Maydelle Yeatts advertised the campaign with posters.

Chinese relief was sponsored by members of the Girls' League. Jars were placed in classrooms and money collected used for Chinese benefit.

A Christmas program was performed by members of the welfare committee for children at Casa Colina. Jeannette Walkinshaw played trumpet solos, Barbara Tillman participated in a medley of Christmas carols and carols were sung by the girls' glee club.

The mixed chorus sang "Fanfare for Christmas", the first time this song has been sung on the Chaffey stage.

First choir portion of "Glory to God in the Highest" was sung by the advanced girls and the section portion by the college Charm choir.

A group of sophomore girls appeared in costume and presented famous old carols.

Wearing costumes of the Old English period, members of the brass ensemble played specially arranged fanfares and accompaniments woven around the "Lord's Prayer." Jeannette Walkinshaw, Bill Rugg, Betty Grant and Vivian Mahan were the instrumentalists.

Carol Guiverre, high school senior, sang "Cantique de Noel" with background accompaniment by the Charm choir.

Ellen Gale Michael and W. H. Kegley were scrip readers and Donald Knox and Catherine Henry pianists, with Miss Avis Fishback assisting at the organ.

Scenic effects representing a cathedral interior were provided from Hollywood and special lighting was developed by Eldon Atwood.

Decorated Trees Almost Everywhere On Chaffey Campus

Brightly decorated Christmas trees can be seen almost everywhere in the Chaffey school today.

There are three in the high school. One may be found lighting the South hall and two are on display in the North hall. All were trimmed by the Girls' League welfare committee.

A decorated Christmas tree adds color to the bookstore. The college has a large tree in the main hall, decorated by the Associated Women students.

Chaffey has one "all-purpose" Yule tree. Used for both high school and college dances and parties and for the Christmas assembly this morning, it will go to the Ontario army air base for the holidays.

Four Upland Women Help Ration Board

Appeal of the Upland, Ontario war price and ration board for volunteers to keep work up to date has had a large response and a sufficient number has been obtained, E. E. Hawthorne, chief clerk, reports.

About 35 women are assisting the board one day weekly, each without compensation, he stated. Included in that number are Mrs. Warren Wass, Mrs. Gordon Nicholson, Mrs. Mary L. Gillingwators and Miss Ann Rohrig.

The volunteers make out ration books, file papers, and do the countless chores requisite in rationing work.

Mr. Hawthorne reports allotments for first quarter of 1945 gasoline will be made to truck owners in January.

He requests that persons having dealings with the board communicate by letter. Interviewing persons who call individually requires too much time of the ration board personnel, but letters can be read, the information requested can be obtained, and the answers written much more quickly.

Last Teenage Dance Of 1944 Tomorrow

Upland Teenagers will have their last dance of 1944 in the Scout house tomorrow evening from 7:30 to 11 o'clock.

Rev. John A. Luther, adult director, announced that the customary Saturday night dances will not be held immediately prior to the Christmas and New Year holidays.

Attendance at the dances has been large all through the autumn months, he stated.

Check Forgers Active In Rush of Holiday Season, Mueller Says

Check thieves and forgers enjoy "easiest pickings" in the rush of the holiday season, Chief of Police Eugene L. Mueller reminds.

An educational campaign has been conducted by the Upland police department and the United States secret service.

"Now is the time for merchants to talk these matters over with their employes," he said. "Caution them to be careful in accepting either government or commercial checks, especially from strangers.

"Have them initial any check they accept and jot down a memo as to what was used for identification. This fixes responsibility and serves to remind one of the transaction.

"To save yourself from loss, know your endorser and require identification. Merchants should ask themselves this question: 'If this check is returned as a forgery, do I know where I can help locate the forger and recover my money?'"

Chaffey Coach Picks Three Hoop Teams

Three full teams have been chosen by Coach Karl W. Kaiser to represent Chaffey high school in C.I.F. competition when the league season starts January 12 against Pomona on the Tiger floor here.

Bill Dingle and Paul Blackburn are forwards on the first team, with Jimmy Lucas and George O'Hair still striving for the center position and Denton Mattison, Ruben Ward and Don Patterson in competition for the two guard posts.

On the second team are Garry Frantz and Vernon Kruggel, forwards; Harold Cook, center, and Jim Bentley and Bill Dalton, guards. Lineup of the third Tiger five is Bob Sachs and Don McClure, forwards; Howard Clark, center, and Bob Brown and Willis Williamson, guards.

Give 'em a break during the holidays!

Thousands of men and women in service will take a furlough trip home for Christmas.

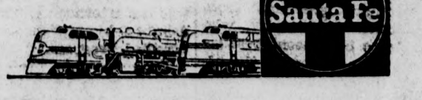

For many of them it will be the last time they will be with their families for an indefinite period of time.

Of course, we want to provide them with space on our trains for comfortable trips to and from their homes.

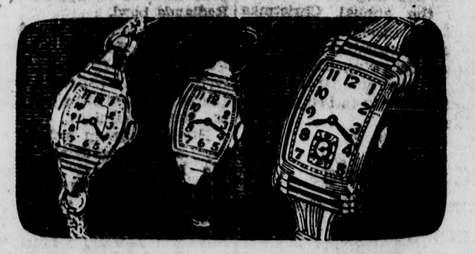

To do this—with our limited passenger equipment and unprecedented volume of civilian travel—we must again ask your cooperation and friendly understanding.

As you can adjust your going and coming with more latitude than men and women in service—please—postpone your train trip until after the holiday period to enable us to provide accommodations for our soldiers, sailors and marines on Christmas furloughs.

One Tiger On All-CBL Team

Chaffey high school's football team defeated Riverside Pomona, San Bernardino, Colton and Redlands to win the C.I.F. group seven gridiron championship and came through the season undefeated, but only one Chaffey player was named to the mythical All-belt league team selected at a meeting of coaches in Riverside.

The one player picked was Ruben Ward, Tiger fullback, chosen to be halfback on the all-league team. Riverside and Pomona each placed four players, and Redlands, Colton and San Bernardino one each, to total 12 including an alternate blocking back.

Paul Blackburn, Louis Lanier and Leonard Davis scored heavily in the balloting and would have been on the second team if one had been named.

The complete CBL team chosen was:

Ends: Boyd, Riverside; Royer, San Bernardino.

Tackles: Auld, Riverside; Amodt, Redlands.

Guards: Harris and Licata, Pomona.

Center: Pentoney, Riverisde.

Halfbacks: Ward, Chaffey; Jameson, Riverside.

Quarterback: Alvarez, Colton.

Fullback: Androus, Pomona.

Blocking Back: Straley, Pomona.

Death Claims Mrs. Gimby at Home Of Daughter Here

Relatives and friends paid final tribute to Mrs. Margaret Jane Gimby of Pomona this afternoon at 2 o'clock when funeral services were held at the Reeves chapel in Pomona.

Mrs. Gimby passed away Wednesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. N. D. McCallum, 369 West Ninth street ,following an illness of several months.

Born February 5, 1871, near Goderich, Ontario, Canada, Mrs. Gimby came to California in 1920. She resided in Ontario for a number of years and then went to Los Angeles. Seven years ago she moved to Pomona, where she was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Surviving Mrs. Gimby are six daughters, Mrs. McCallum and Mrs. Marion Maxwell, of Upland; Mrs. Howard Suddaby of Lavoy, Alberta, Canada, Mrs. Fred Harris of Vancouver, British Columbia, Mrs. Forrest Kerby and Mrs. Ward Jenkins of El Cerrito, California; 13 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Maria Harrison of Holmfield, Man., Canada.

The Rev. Robert B. Shattuck, pastor of the Pomona Presbyterian church, conducted the funeral service, and cremation rites followed.

Mexican National in Fight Cut by Rock

Blood from a gash in his forehead covering his face, Alfonzo Cordero Aragon, Mexican National employed by the Old Baldy Citrus association on East Nineteenth street, was taken by Upland police officers Wednesday night to the Green Memorial hospital.

Four stitches were used to sew the cut in his forehead above his left eye and he was returned to the police station where he was boarded for the night.

Lt. Ralph H. Palmer and Officer Joe Valadez were told that the cut was inflicted by a rock thrown by Hilario Briones, another Mexican National employed at the packing house.

The incident occurred on Fifteenth street near North Campus avenue following an argument about the price of an automobile Aragon had purchased from Briones.

Banquet Honors Football Team

Maurice Johnson, coach of the Upland junior high school football team, will review highlights of the past season that saw Upland win five games and lose just one by a single point. The review will be one of the features of the football banquet and dance in the Upland Elementary school careteria tonight.

Chief of Police Eugene L. Mueller will speak on "Sportsmanship" and Ernest R. Camfield will be master of ceremonies.

The banquet and dance will be sponsored by the Boys' League. The dinner will be served by girls of the home economics department under the supervision of Mrs. R. S. Hood. Mrs. Margaret Mae Middleton decorated the cafeteria for the occasion.

Football players and their girls will be the guests of honor.

Political Parade

By CLEM WHITAKER

Of all the States in the Union, California has become the most insurgent and the most independent in its voting—the quickest to cross party lines and befuddle the politicians by electing Republicans one year, Democrats the next, and a mixed ticket whenever the voters feel impelled to demonstrate their complete nonpartisanship!

There are many interesting evidences of this strange anomaly in the results of the recent election and in a comparison of the State's voting trends with those of two years ago.

Witnesseth:

California, in 1942, elected Republican Governor Earl Warren by a smashing majority that made jubilant GOP'ers feel that happy days were here again, for sure. But this year, California cheered Bourbon hearts by rolling up a bigger majority for Democratic President Roosevelt than any other State in the Nation.

Then, lest that result be interpreted as a complete reversal of form, the State's independent-minded voters elected a Republican State Legislature and a Democratic delegation to Congress—and strolled home, apparently well satisfied with the day's work.

To illustrate the disconcerting irregularity of party members in California—and the fact that both Republicans and Democrats jump the fence whenever the spirit moves them—the voters on November 7th, while they gave President Roosevelt an impressive majority of approximately half a million, turned right around and gave the Republicans a working majority in both houses of the Legislature.

The new State Senate will be composed of 26 Republicans and 14 Democrats, while the Assembly, unless the official vote changes the results, will have a membership of 42 Republicans, 37 Democrats and one Independent. On the other hand, the State's delegation to Congress (again barring upsets in the official tally) will boast 16 Democrats as against 7 Republicans.

If the whims of California voters are weighed and analyzed, there is a certain consistency, however, even about their inconsistency. For instance, they gave Democratic President Roosevelt a predominantly Democratic congressional delegation to back up his national administration, and then—playing no favorites—gave Republican Governor Warren a Republican Legislature to help his administration of State affairs.

The major lesson to be learned from a study of California's recent voting habits is that party regularity, in a strict sense, has ceased to exist, no matter how much the party leaders may wish it otherwise.

The total harvested citrus production of the United States during the year ending with October was the largest in history, 415,000 carloads compared with 370,000 carloads in the previous year, and more than double the production of ten years ago.

Nearly 600,000 gallons of concentrated orange juice from the Exchange Orange Products Company at Ontario was purchased for the War Food Administration's lend-lease program in the past year. Canned orange juice sold to the armed forces from this plant exceeded two million cans — approximately 225,000 gallons of natural strength juice.

Hospital History Cited in Program

Loma; P. E. Walline, J. J. Atwood, Dr. William H. Craig, all of Upland; J. B. Draper, J. R. Pollock, Dr. C. Sheppard and Dr. D. N. Bacon, all of Ontario.

"This hospital was able to meet the needs of the community for several years, but it was soon apparent that a larger and more modern institution was needed. The late Dr. William H. Craig and my mother had many conferences over what should or could be done. It was her desire that these communities should have a modern hospital with the best of operating equipment and should be conducted on the basis of a non-profit charitable institution, so that our people could have the best of hospital care and without profit. To make this possible she made the first donation to the new hospital to be organized on the foregoing premises.

"In April, 1920 the Paul Memorial hospital was organized as a non-profit charitable institution and Myron Hunt was retained as the designing architect.

"At this time Mrs. Paul decided that the use of the family name in the corporation might prevent others from making donations to the association. In December, 1922 she requested that the corporate name be changed from the Paul Memorial to the present name of San Antonio Community hospital. This has proved to have been a very wise decision.

"The present hospital was opened to receive patients in August, 1925. The management was faced with many problems and at the time they seemed insurmountable. However, after a meeting between the Trustees and the Doctors it was decided that if we had the services of a full-time X-ray and laboratory technologist, we would be able to give our patients better care and also some of our problems of hospital management would be solved. I think all of the Trustees and Doctors will agree with me that the turning point in the hospital came when we obtained the services of Dr. A. A. Aita as technologist in the X-ray and Laboratory.

"When Dr. Aita came to us, he found a small room and one employee in the laboratory. Three years later this space was doubled and we had two employees. We had also purchased $1,300 worth of laboratory equipment. In 1938 the present laboratory was built. Twelve thousand dollars in new equipment was purchased and we now have six employees in this department. The laboratory department gives 24-hour service every day of the year.

"I cannot pass on without naming some of the outstanding work Dr. Aita has been able to do.

"In 1934 he had on hand a very large supply of convalescent infantile papralysis serum.

"The first pneumonia typing depot was established.

"First in the west to establish a plasma depot.

"The hospital now has the largest living available blood bank.

"This is the only hospital to prepare penicillin in a refined state.

"He is now doing thirteen times as much work in the laboratories as was done in 1931.

"No report of the hospital activities would be complete without mentioning the growth of the hospital staff. In 1931 16 doctors were members. Today there are 36 members, 12 of whom are in the armed services. The staff holds regular monthly meetings and twice a year the board of trustees and the staff hold joint meetings to discuss hospital needs.

"Nor should we omit the wonderful work that is being done by the women's auxiliary of the hospital. These ladies are giving their time and labor in making surgical dressings, linen repairs, furnishing canned fruits, organized and furnished the money for the Free Bed Fund and the Sick Baby Fund. We certainly owe them a debt of gratitude for all they have done and are doing now.

"We should also acknowledge and express our appreciation for the whole-hearted support we receive from the banking organizations, especially during the years of our worst financial condition and we continue to receive this aid today. Without this support our building expansion would not have been what it is.

"With the completion of this new wing the total cost of all our lands, buildings and equipment will amount to $360,000, an increase of $190,000 from 1925. Also our patient capacity will be increased from 45 to 92 beds, all donated by the loyal people of this community—a record to be proud of.

"The trustees always have in mind future betterment and have recently purchased 10 acres adjoining the present site on the north and are planning an extension to the present surgical wing and no doubt before long may find it necessary to have a nurses' home.

"Since the hospital was started, we have taken care of thirty thousand, eight hundred and forty-four patients and as of December tenth of this year we have admitted twenty-three hundred and sixty-five patients. Our death rate is 1.3 per cent below the general average.

"This institution is now approved and we are members in the following national organizations: The American College of Surgeons, The American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association.

"With the continued support of the people of our communities and also that of the medical staff, there can be no reason why this institution can not continue to grow and become one of the outstanding health centers in this country."

Chaffey Schools Program Today

Traditional Christmas program with vocalists of both the high school and college participating was held in the Chaffey civic auditorium this morning.

The performance was directed by S. Earle Blakeslee and Florence Hill Blakeslee.

The high school advanced girls and sophomore girls' and boys' glee clubs united as a mixed chorus in the opening processional of "O Come, All Ye Faithful." The boys were heard alone in selected passages of Charles Gounod's anthem, "Nazareth."

Outdoor Lighting Curbed Due to Wartime Conditions

For another war year, the public is asked to forego the traditional cheer of outdoor Christmas lighting, according to Frank L. Allen, district manager, Southern California Edison company.

"This request comes from the office of war utilities of the war production board, which states that war conditions still require that outdoor decorative lighting be dispensed with this holiday season, as in 1943 and 1942," Mr. Allen said.

TO CREATE A NEW WORLD OUT OF THE OLD WORLD

Civilization is sailing back over the route of Christopher Columbus. Millions of our best young men have voyaged from the New World to bring peace and order back to the Old World, so that their sons may never have to take a similar trip.

If we of this generation can find out how to banish War from the face of the earth, it will be mankind's greatest discovery. A two-fold responsibility rests upon each one of us: (1) To help win the war; (2) to work for a just and permanent peace throughout the world.

EVERY RESIDENT IS ELIGIBLE

Every family in Upland, Alta Loma, Cucamonga, and Etiwanda is included in the Upland Merchants' Dividend Day. A directory has been especially compiled by The Upland News. This directory includes every house address in these communities—Upland, the outlying district, and the three communities east of Upland.

A page number and line number are selected in a drawing to determine where the "Dividend Day Man" will call with the award. Thus, an address is selected from the directory. If the family receiving the call qualifies by having sales slips, the award is presented. The call is made at 6 p. m. every Monday. The sales slips must be dated Saturday.

The dividend sales do not have to be for cash, a "charged" sales slip being acceptable. In all fairness, however, a sales slip for payment on account cannot be eligible for use on dividend day.

Salvation Army Drive Underway

More than ever before, demands are being made upon the Salvation Army, Charles V. Barr, chairman and treasurer of its wartime maintenance appeal, reports.

Mr. Barr, F. C. Buffington, Frank K. Nichols and Owen W. Davis are soliciting Uplanders to contribute to the Salvation Army's maintenance chest.

"Its activities are vitally essential under present conditions," Mr. Barr states. The Salvation Army provides a young people's character building program, religious work, day nurseries, home and hospital for unmarried mothers and other services.

"We know you will want, as in the past years, to have a part in helping the Salvation Army to help otehrs," he said. "We feel you are familiar with this great organization's work, particularly now in these years of stress and war.

"This year the Salvation Army has even a greater demand upon its organization. We feel we are justified in asking a generous contribution in this time of special need."

Gift slips and envelopes have been mailed to Upland residents, he reports.

Oppose Watering Of More Farms

Development of additional farm land for irrigation in San Bernardino county was opposed at the fourth agricultural conference in Upland unless such land has an established water right, according to a committee report made to the agricultural extension service.

To advise soldiers and others seeking farm lands, formation was urged of county and local committees of farms. Continued study of underground water resources by the county flood control district was asked.

A request was made that modern farm homes be made available at different cost levels, that beautification of home grounds be supported and that a county recreation camp be established in the mountains.

The conference was held at the Red Hill country club house and was attended by 96 farmers, farm women and business men, with Farm Advisor A. G. Salter acting as chairman.

Those present were divided into four committees on land use and land values, water resources and water conservation, farm labor, and farm home and family living.

Committee chairmen were Oscar Arnold, Ontario; Major P. B. Hasbrouck, Fontana; Lloyd Yount, Redlands, and Mrs. M. A. Kipf, Highland.

Upland Praised For Bond Drive

Success of the sixth war loan drive here has won Upland the commendation of the southland war finance committee and the appreciation of the treasury department.

The Upland war finance committee has received a telegram from L. A. Morgan, vice chairman, community division, war finance committee. It reads:

"Treasury department appreciates keenly outstanding achievement your patriotic workers in completing war bond quota.

"Trust you will not relax as our overall job is far from finished."

Upland is over the top in the sixth war loan campaign. Total investment here to date have reached $380,500. The combined individual and corporation quota was $375,000.

Individual bond investments total $330,000 during the campaign to today. The people of Upland and vicinity have purchased enough bonds over the quota assigned to make up the deficiency in corporation allotments.

Corporation allotments have reached $50,000 but further allotments will be made and the $100,000 quota will likely be attained.

The war bond campaign comes to an end tomorrow but bond investments throughout December will apply to Upland's sixth loan quota.

In accordance with the telegraphic request: "Trust you will not relax as our overall job is far from finished," the Upland committee will keep the drive here in high gear.

Upland solicitors were J. W. Shepperson, war finance committee chairman; Marion W. Grothe, acting chairman and sales manager; D. E. Palmer, E. H. Gibson, Harlow Wilson, Frank Nichols, Orton P. Brady, R. C. Norton, Leigh Thompson, Owen E. Atwood, Harold W. Cook, Edgar Pierce, E. Tweed Stone, Eugene Nisbet, Vernon V. Paine, Howard Pierce, William Vogel Neal Van Dorin and Dr. C. B. Taylor.

Plumbing Code Is Explained

Good plumbing means good health, G. E. Sarri of San Bernardino told the home planning institute in Chaffey college Wednesday evening.

Mr. Sarri is San Bernardino city plumbing inspector and a member of the executive board of the Pacific Coast Plumbers association.

Proper plumbing installation insures proper sanitation, he said, while defective plumbing may cause sickness or even death. He recommended that all plumbing be installed in accordance with the state's master code and urged that the work be performed or supervised by a master plumber.

Results of inferior plumbing were depicted in motion pictures shown at the conclusion of his remarks.

Gottloff's Grampaw

His Feeble Grampaw gets panned no end cause he muffed a few issues of The Upland News.

Maybe the old duffer has an inferiority complex. This business of fumbling with this portable and exposing the sordid details of family life makes a guy feel like he is imposing on the public.

'Nother thing, when I get the yen that I just must do something whether or no—my inherited strain of Irish inconsistency steps forward and turns off the faweet. Then, I'd rather do anything in the world than the job I'm supposed to do.

At the moment I should be giving our phalanx of ultimate consumers a word picture of the extra-acceptable gifts awaiting their choice at The Old Family Drug Store.

However—that's a job and what's more—it requires effort.

When two-thirds of these various items were assembled and presented youse guys would be bored stiff—and so would The Medicine Mixer.

So we let the Jury do its own deliberating and there is plenty over which to deliberate.

Many years ago — when The Ole Feller had youth and hair—it was the general practice to buy a certain amount of this and that especially for the Christmas trade. What was left after the buying season was packed away as a nest egg against the next year's holidays.

Since the days of "Mac The Medicine Man and His Two Little Sisters" and later when we consolidated their gift and stationery store with the drug store—and made ourselves a new business home on the corner here—we have featured gifts all the year round. Of course we have perhaps more things and more stock for the months before Christmas.

Gottloff is giving me the bird because I aint doin' him no good.

Gottloff wails stoutly because Gramp is inattentive.

In person Gramp presents a horse, a bear, a sheep, a gay string of beads and wot not. No soap. I grab him to my bosom and everything is O. K. But I must get back to my job. I put him back in his Pen. He howls more vigorously. I go into the kitchen and return with plenty pots and pans.

Merely traded the vocal solo for the crash of tin pans.

Gottloff's a tyrant, a rowdy, and a mighty sweet little feller.
